

THE DISCOVERY CENTER
of the Southern Tier

Reciprocal Admission

Membership includes reciprocal admission to the following Upstate NY Museums and Science Centers. Please call each center for their reciprocal admission policies before you visit.

SCIENCENTER

601 First Street Ithaca, NY 14850

(607)272-0600

Hours: Tuesday-Saturday: 10:00am-5:00pm

Sunday: Noon-5:00pm

Open on Mondays in July and August, and national holidays that fall on a Monday

Voted "Ithaca's Best Place for Family Fun," the Sciencenter in Ithaca features 250+ hands-on exhibits, an outdoor science park, a Curiosity Corner for toddlers and preschoolers, an animal room, and a seasonal science-themed miniature golf course. The museum is home to the region's only inland marine touch tank with live tide pool animals. Plan your visit online at www.sciencenter.org

SCI-TECH CENTER OF NORTHERN NEW YORK

154 Stone Street Watertown , NY 13601

(315)788-1340

Hours: Tuesday-Saturday: 10:00am-4:00pm

The Sci-Tech Center houses over 35 hands-on exhibits on two floors of its building. Exhibit highlights include leaving your shadow behind in the "Shadow Room", letting your nose stroll through the "Garden of Smells" and exploring electrical circuitry with "Bulbs and Batteries" and the "Electric Dollhouse".

UTICA CHILDREN'S MUSEUM

311 Main Street Utica , NY 13501

(315)724-6129

Hours: Please call for updated hours

Visit a Native American Log house. Examine dinosaur life in the Mesozoic era. Find out what's under the "skin of a car". Walk through our locomotive, dining car and caboose. Experiment with laser light and other hands-on science activities. Younger children enjoy the Dino Den and preschool play area.

THE SCIENCE DISCOVERY CENTER OF ONEONTA

Physical Science Building, State University College Oneonta, NY 13820

(607)436-2011

Hours: Please call for updated hours

The Science Discovery Center of Oneonta offers more than 80 hands-on science activities. Experiments are based mostly in physics. Many use simple and familiar materials in unusual ways.

When visiting the above organizations, please remember to bring your membership card and a picture form ID.